it's now easy being green

What makes our printer a green printer?

...it's all about the ink.

MUBIO INK
Brilliant Color - Courtesy of Nature

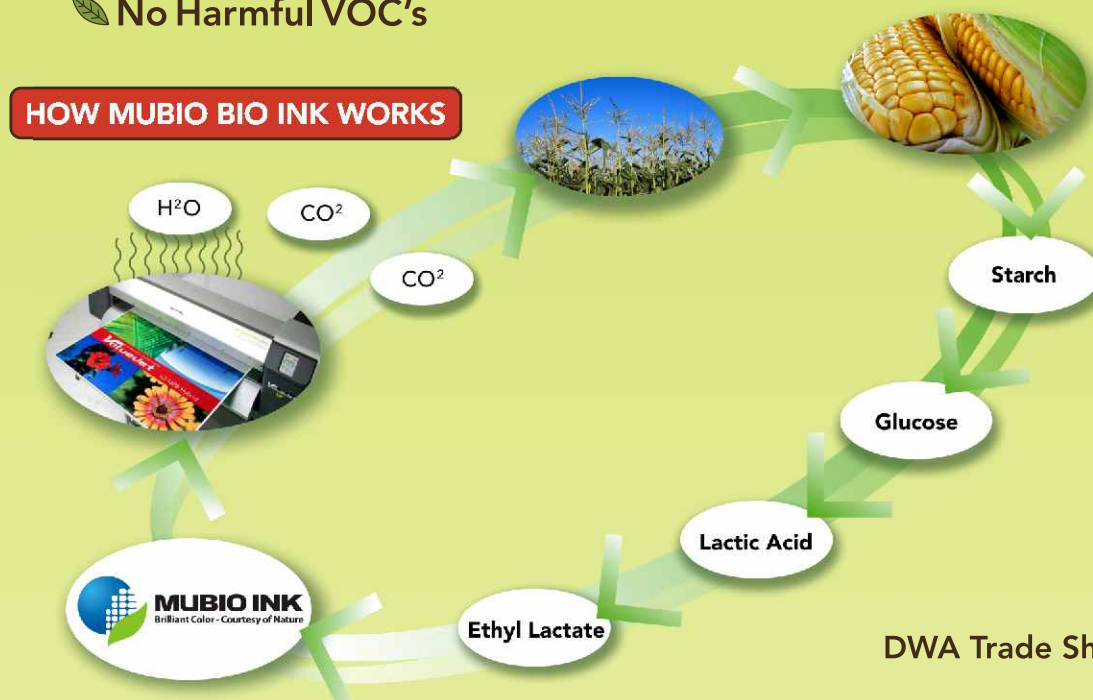

Mutoh's ValueJet 1608 hybrid printer uses MUBIO INK, which is composed of 80 percent plant-derived substances and contains no VOCs (Volatile Organic Compounds). The ink has also been recognized by the Environmental Protection Agency's Design for the Environment program.

Environmental Issues Are Not a Passing Trend.

New regulations call for dramatic reduction of VOCs containing HAP's (Hazardous Air Pollutants). For every pound of vegetable oil used to replace petroleum, carbon dioxide in the atmosphere is reduced by 2.77 pounds!
